Recently the World Floor Covering Association made mention in a newsletter about a series of lawsuits regarding a grout sealer called Stand 'N Seal. This product apparently contained solvents that were flammable and also caused respiratory problems if used in a non-ventilated space. The complaint is specific to this product only and in no way affects the ability to continue to promote the Aqua Mix Sameday Sealer which is a safe, water-based product.

Our office will be closed for Thanksgiving on November 22.

Enclosures - Price Lists

We took the opportunity to update the price list with all of the current information available. The prices remain unchanged however, packaging, sizes and references to porcelain have been updated. The porcelain floor tile factory in Kentucky is now operating and series are systematically being converted to the new porcelain body. You can remove the previous price list and addendum dated 6/1/07 as those products have been incorporated into the enclosed price list.

Please take note to the price reduction of the unglazed porcelain line. In addition, we are introducing two new collections of glazed porcelains that are being inventoried, Lights and Portofino. With the close proximity of the US-based warehouse in Springfield VA, Impronta/Italgraniti has grown to our largest supplier of Italian produced products. This factory has some of the most innovative technology allowing them to produce sophisticated products for homeowners and design professionals alike.

The price list will show that we are now stocking the 10 new solid colors of the urethane based grout along with the new 9lb size for smaller projects. Ease of application, color permanence and the ability to store unused material for a future job are just some of the benefits of StarQuartz Quartz-Lock Grout.
