First conceived nearly 2500 years ago, Neptune was the Roman god of freshwater and the sea. A counterpart of the Greek god Poseidon, the image of Neptune has lived on through the ages in countless artworks, statues and architectural treasures — all of which are influenced by the vast undersea world that human beings can only imagine.

It is this unseen world that has inspired a brand-new wall tile collection from Mediterranea - NEPTUNE. An original and innovative design, Neptune is an 8"x8" glazed ceramic tile that creates a wondrous pattern that is easily installed. Mediterranea's tile design experts leveraged Dynamic HD Imaging® technology to integrate distinct colors and shapes, with squares and rectangles merged together superbly in a single 8"x8" tile. Finished installations weave an intricate geometric wall tile arrangement that is truly effortless to install, but appears hand-crafted by a master artisan.

Made in Italy, Neptune features the first-class production quality you have come to expect from Mediterranea. It is a perfect example of exceptional old-world wall tile charm, perfected with the technology of today.
